NOVEMBER 2-3, 2022

The Mass Notification Seminar will engage participants in conversations that address equity and inclusion in public messaging, and will feature best practices for leveraging a variety of communication technologies as well as methods for reaching hard to reach populations.

Featuring expert panelists from public health, transportation, academia, non-profit, and government agencies, participants will come away with ready to use everyday and crisis communications tools.

Join this seminar to improve alert and warning messaging that reaches the whole community through diverse methods.
